

Convergence Covenant

Because we have a very diverse group of people who are connected with Convergence, we offer two ways to commit to the life of this community of faith.

Having read and considered this covenant, I now commit to the life and work at Convergence in the following way (please check one):

Steward

One who is accountable for the resources God has entrusted to us.

A Steward is one who identifies her/himself as a follower of Jesus Christ and wishes to unite with the Convergence family in a committed way of accountability. In doing so, one commits to God and one another to support the mission of Convergence by living out the church covenant as expressed in our bylaws. This “stewardship” is open to all who feel called to that responsibility and choose to engage in the preparation that is required.

A Steward commits to regular and ongoing support of Convergence in the following ways: praying, serving, attending, contributing, promoting and financial giving. Collectively, the Stewards are the voting body of Convergence.

Collaborator

one who cooperates or works with others toward a common goal

A Collaborator is one who partners with and supports the Convergence community, yet is unable or does not wish to be a Steward of Convergence.

A Collaborator expresses a desire to support Convergence in some or all of the following ways: praying, serving, attending, contributing artistically, promoting, and financial giving as they choose and are able.
